There is a TV Tale, but the authenticity of this is unknown. They are 17 and 21 years of age, which is not uncommon in the movie. The boy is German and the girl is Russian. What is unknown, is whether or not the movie will leave the border between Germany and Russia in order to address the question of national identity. The part about the Russian girl is played by Oksana Asova, who is a very well known young actress. But the part about the German boy is played by Max Holm, who is considered to be a "second generation" icon. This is a forbidden subject in Germany and therefore only a few people are likely to know. Up to now there are only three people (1) who had an idea about the content of this movie. (2) at least one third (some even more) were completely in the dark. One of the other five, namely Red, was even completely
